

“SHAKUNIR PRATISHODH”

The play ‘Shakunir Pratishodh’ written by Late Ganesh Gogoi was staged in Dr. Bhupen Hazarika Auditorium, B. Borooah College by the teachers and employees of the College on Friday, the 17th of February 2017 at 6.00 pm. Prof. Amulya Chandra Das, Head of the Department of Assamese and a veteran actor and director, directed the play. The fully packed auditorium with students, teachers, employees, retired teachers of the college and the invited principals and teachers of other colleges, speaks for the success of the play and the overwhelming response and appreciation it could garner. Another laudable thing that needs to be mentioned is that the teachers and employees of the college managed time for the rehearsal of the play without hampering their daily academic duties. The staging of the play was made possible by donations by the Principal, faculty members and non-teaching staff of the college. Mr. Ramen Bhagabati and Mr. Lakhi Kalita also extended their support in kind. There were in total fourteen characters in the play. Dr. Jagadindra Raychoudhury, Vice Principal played the role of Yudhisthira. The role of Karna was played
